About Town

And Country
By TIMOTHY T.

Spring is Near
But March 26, '55,
Was Black Saturday

(Written Wednesday)

THE RECENT WEATHER, warm and rainy, sure made things outdoors start changing in a hurry.

Grass that was brown one day was green the next. The forsythia was yellow but the corn wasn't turning brown. The round, red japonica buds are ready to burst forth and so are the pale yellow buds of the jonquils.

If things continue like they have been the last few days, spring will be with us in a hurry.

LET US HOPE we do not have another March 26 like we had in 1955. It was Black Saturday.

On Friday things were budding including the fruit trees and spring was here. That's what we thought.

But that day snow started blowing in and the mercury dropped and dropped and by Saturday morning it had fallen to 10 degrees above zero. Ten above on March 26, mind you.

The cold weather collied the first leaves on the shrubs and flowers and knocked out the fruit crop and we had to start with our spring all over again.

THIS DEPARTMENT last December recorded an item from Muddy about James Bowman, who will be 80 years old this July, helping his son out in the field, picking and shucking corn.

The United Press picked up this item and carried it nationally. Then internationally.

Mrs. Fannie Penrod of Muddy received a letter this week from her son, Jess D. Penrod, who is in the army in Germany. In the letter was an item he had clipped from the Stars and Stripes newspaper, published there, which told of Mr. Bowman's work in the corn field despite his years.

Teacher Forgives Pupil Who Stabbed Her with Knife

MACOMB, Ill. (U.P.) — An 11-year-old pupil was forgiven today by the teacher he stabbed in the back with a 3-inch pocket knife.

The pupil, Harry Eugene Hall, was charged with assault with a deadly weapon and released on $5,000 bond. A hearing was tentatively scheduled for March 15.

The boy's sixth grade teacher, Mrs. Richard Hempleman, 43, said she scolded him for "glowering" at a pupil singing a solo in a singing class. As she turned away, he sank the pocket knife into her right shoulder, she said.

Mrs. Hempleman was released from a hospital after four stitches were taken to close the wound.

"I'm convinced his act was not one of dislike for me, personally," the teacher said. "He was lashing back at a combination of circumstances built up in his own mind."

The boy, apparently regretful, told police he wanted to apologize to Mrs. Hempleman. He said he whipped out the knife impulsively.

Mrs. Hempleman, the mother of a 12-year-old boy and a 5-year-old girl, has taught for eight years.

The pupil is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn S. Hall, a farm couple living near Macomb.

A pin and certificate will be presented by the local Michael Hillegas chapter of the D. A. R.

Avah Phillips of the Harrisburg Township high school is the daughter of Brose Phillips, principal of the Dorrisville grade school, and Mrs. Phillips, 1101 South Fox.

She is president of the Student Council, vice president of the H.

Eight Districts Seek to Improve School Program

C. R. Gardner, Saline county superintendent of schools, today reported that approximately 75 interested patrons, teachers and board members from eight school districts south of Harrisburg attended a meeting last night in the court house to determine what logical steps should be taken to provide a better educational program for boys and girls in the districts.

Represented were the following districts:

South Walnut Grove District 49, Pierson District 50, Rudement District 52, Mitchellville District 53, Duncan District 54, Winkelman District 55, Spring Valley District 56 and Taylor District 81.

Mr. Gardner pointed out that the schools represented were placed on a conditional recognition status from the state office, or, in a majority of cases, were not recognized by the state department following their annual school inspection during last October.

"Of course schools which were not recognized were automatically removed from the list of schools qualifying for financial assistance from the State Distributive Fund and most schools would be financially unable to operate without the assistance of the fund," Mr. Gardner said.

Miss Ethyl Beryl Miller and Otis Keeler, assistant supervisor from the Office of Public Instruction, Springfield, were present and explained that conditions of the physical plants of the districts and lack of an adequate curriculum and low attendance were factors contributing to non-recognition.

Miss Miller and Mr. Keeler pointed out that the best probable course for the schools concerned would be to consider the formulation of a community consolidated district, thereby insuring the continued participation in the State Distributive Fund.

It was agreed that a follow-up meeting with the boards of directors of the school districts concerned would be held in the near future to consider further the recommendations and suggestions offered by Miss Miller and Mr. Keeler.

The tentative date for the meeting of the boards of directors has been set for Tuesday, March 28, in the office of the county superintendent of schools.

Gov. Stratton Attacks Record Of Stevenson

NEW YORK (U.P.) — Republican Gov. William G. Stratton of Illinois charged today that Adlai Stevenson failed to do a good job when he was governor there and "couldn't do it nationally," either.

Stratton said that if the people knew about the Democratic presidential aspirant's record as governor he would be one of the weakest candidates the Democrats could run against President Eisenhower.

Stevenson "talks a great deal about problems, but when he had an opportunity to do something himself there was not much definite, concrete, tangible achievement," Stratton said.

Stratton said Stevenson had lost his home state in 1952 and "would lose Illinois by an even larger vote" if the election were held today.

Stratton attacked Stevenson's record in a news conference at the National Republican Club at which he also made public the text of an address he will deliver at the club's "Pulse of the Nation" dinner tonight.

Senate Nears Showdown Vote On Farm Bill

By United Press
Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland flatly predicted continuation of flexible price supports today as the Senate moved toward a showdown vote on this farm issue.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson hinted that he, too, had just about given up hope for the Democratic-sponsored bill to dump the administration's flexible support program in favor of a restoration of 90 per cent supports on basic crops.

The two leaders disclosed their views as the Senate got set to start voting this afternoon on the farm bill which calls for a $1,100,000,000 soil bank program as well as 90 per cent supports on corn, cotton, peanuts, rice and millable wheat.

Other congressional news:
Highways: A House Public Works subcommittee voted to authorize the biggest highway building program in history, involving a total outlay of $500,000,000 over the next 13 years.

The federal government would put up $36,600,000,000 and the states would pay the rest. Out of the $500,000,000 total, $24,800,000,000 would be for the new interstate highway program that has been considered for a year. Most of the rest would be to expand the present program of federal-state financing of primary, secondary and city roads.

Trade: Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks defended the administration's action in agreeing to a relaxation of Allied controls on trade with Communist countries. In effect, he told the Senate investigating subcommittee, this country did the best it could in the face of the insistence of Allies that they had to export more to Iron Curtain countries to keep their economies healthy.

Lobbying: Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.) withdrew as prospective chairman of the Senate's special committee to investigate lobbying and campaign expenditures. He bowed out with a sharp blast at Republican members for demanding bipartisan control of the equally divided committee.

Husband Divides Community Property
FORT WORTH, Tex. (U.P.) — Joe Truman Allen's wife testified at their divorce trial Wednesday that the 33-year-old packinghouse worker did not wait for court action to divide their community property.

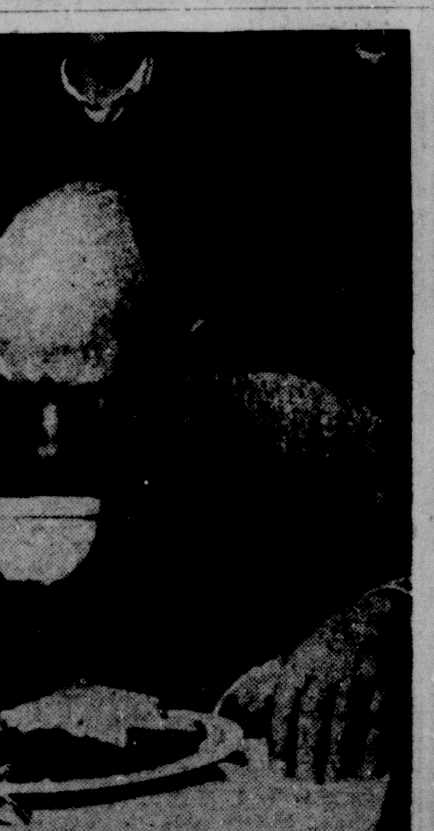

Mrs. Allen said her husband took their chairs and a sofa apart and put the pieces in two equal piles. When he came to the dining room table he sawed it in half, she said.

Plenty of Seats For Game Tonight
From all evidence, there will be plenty of seats for tonight's Frankfort-Metropolis sectional basketball encounter at Davenport gym.

HTHS Principal Eltis Henson, tournament manager, said today. He said both schools had turned back part of their allotment and that the local school had tickets for sale.

There are general admission tickets only.

The gymnasium doors will open at 6:30 p. m. and the game will start at eight o'clock.

May Ask UN Resolution For Peace in Middle East

U. S., Britain To Show Power In Mediterranean

Seek to Prevent War Between Arabs, Israel

LONDON (U.P.) — The United States and Britain have agreed on a show of force in the eastern Mediterranean to prevent a threatened war between Israel and its Arab neighbors, informed sources said today.

Diplomatic sources said the tip-off came when the United States announced it was sending 1,800 U. S. Marines into the area at a time when Britain was reinforcing its Cyprus garrison with troops who could be flown to the Middle East in a matter of an hour or so.

Informed sources said the United States still was balking at Britain's request it join the Baghdad Pact to reinforce the Western position in the Middle East but that movement of the Marines to the U. S. Mediterranean fleet was a pointed gesture—if a partial one.

Prime Minister Anthony Eden called his cabinet into emergency session today to study growing demands for firm British action in the area and his request to the United States for help in preventing war.

Eden still needed some stronger sign from Washington to bail him out of political hot water at home.

The Principal Developments

Though Washington still had not answered Eden's latest SOS, talks concerning the future of the Middle East were underway in Cairo among the Arab nations, in the United Nations, in Karachi, Pakistan, in Washington and in London.

These were the principal developments:

1. Israel was reported delaying a demand for United Nations Security Council action on the Middle East crisis for fear the Soviet would veto any action against the Arab states.

2. Behind-the-scenes negotiations were reported in progress at the United Nations to create a demilitarized zone between Israel and its Arab neighbors to widen the shooting distance.

3. The United States was reported applying pressure on the Arab states to accept the Jordan valley development plan as a way to ease the Arab refugee problem and avoid more trouble with Israel.

4. King Hussein of Jordan told his cheering throngs at Nablus, 30 miles north of Jerusalem, that "the future is ours" following the ouster of Lt. Gen. John Glubb Pasha and "we shall regain what was lost (to Israel) of our beloved fatherland with God's help."

5. Egypt, Syria and Saudi Arabia, holding a "summit" conference of their heads of state in Cairo, adopted a more belligerent stand toward the West today and consigned measures against Western nations supplying Israel with arms and men.

6. The Shah of Iran, a member of the Baghdad Pact, arrived in Karachi, Pakistan, and scheduled immediate conferences with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd on the Middle East crisis.

7. Jordan Ambassador Yusuf Haikal paid a surprise visit to the Foreign Office this morning. A Foreign Office spokesman confirmed later that Jordan has asked Britain to reconsider its recall of 15 key British officers now serving in the Arab Legion. "This will be examined," he said.

Eden won a vote of confidence in the House of Commons Wednesday night on his Mid-East policy, but he was greeted by a storm of jeering from the Laborite opposition and repeated cries of "Resign."

The outburst against Eden was one of the noisiest and most hostile against a prime minister since Neville Chamberlain came under attack for his Munich agreements more than 16 years ago.

White House Denies Sparkman Charge Ike Delegates His Duties

WASHINGTON (U.P.) — The White House said today that President Eisenhower "certainly has not delegated any of his constitutional duties" to subordinates.

The statement was made in reply to Sen. John J. Sparkman's charge Wednesday night that Mr. Eisenhower would be delegating the "presidency itself" if he served another term under conditions he laid down last week.

Sparkman, Alabama Democrat who was vice presidential candidate in 1952, said Mr. Eisenhower is working only a 35 to 40 hour week now compared with the 60 hours he devoted to the affairs of state before his heart attack.

"The people will not re-elect 'a part-time president to deal with full-time problems,'" Sparkman said in a nationwide political broadcast.

The broadcast was the Democrats' reply to Mr. Eisenhower's radio-TV speech of last week explaining his decision to seek a second term.

Reduces Social Activities
Asst. White House Press Secretary Murray Snyder, commenting on the Sparkman speech, said: "I think the President very clearly stated last Wednesday and yesterday the distinction between his constitutional duties and his hospitality functions, the latter being the department in which he has reduced his activities."

"He certainly has not delegated his constitutional duties," Snyder said.

"I don't think the senator would measure his own services by the number of hours he puts in on the floor or in his office or by the number of constituent visitors he receives."

White Worms in Drinking Water, Rat-Like Creatures Have Peoria in Tizzy

PEORIA, Ill. (U.P.) — Little creatures had Peoria in a tizzy today. There are funny little white worms in the drinking water and strange rat-like beasts roaming the streets.

Nobody knew where the creatures came from, but city officials vowed they would find out. Rumblings from Peoria's 115,000 residents indicated it had better be soon.

The worms and the beasts turned up at about the same time a week ago.

Residents reported that small white worms, about 1/8 to 3/4 of an inch long, were flowing out of their water faucet pipes. They didn't seem to hurt the taste of the water but they weren't nice to look at.

Dr. Max Sutter of the State Water Division Survey figured the worms were larvae of the midge-fly. He assured residents they were harmless and would probably be up the protein quantity of their diet.

The rat-like creatures were more serious. They are three times bigger than a normal rat, police reported, measure almost two feet long, and appear to be a cross between a rat and a muskrat.

Nobody in Peoria had seen their like until they turned up in the downtown "Loop" a week ago Wednesday. Since then they've also been spotted in residential areas, where the rodent population is generally limited to mice.

Possible Sewer Dwellers
Reports differed on whether they have webbed feet and police didn't know whether they came from sewers or from out of town. A woman reported that one of the creatures jumped at her while she was crossing a downtown street, others have been sighted near City Hall and a downtown hotel, and police have destroyed three of them in the Loop alone.

City officials called on Peorians to keep calm and indicated they will consult zoologists on what the creatures are. They also promised to give the water pipes a good flushing in hopes that the worms would go away.

Many Peoria residents swore off water for the time being.

And a policeman, sifting through complaint reports, said "I think I'll move to Chicago."

Will Follow Eisenhower Plea for Action

Navy Insists Marine Assignment Strictly Routine

WASHINGTON (U.P.) — Officials disclosed today that Western powers are thinking about asking the United Nations Security Council to adopt a formal resolution demanding that Israel and the Arabs keep the peace in the Middle East.

The move would be in line with President Eisenhower's plea Wednesday for "urgent and early" U. N. action to prevent the Arab-Israeli dispute from blowing up into a full-scale war.

A Security Council resolution presumably would carry at least an implied threat that U. N. sanctions would be imposed on any nation violating the Middle East peace.

Officials said the United States, Britain and France are giving the Security Council more active consideration. But they emphasized that Russia can always wield its veto in the council.

Meanwhile, there were reports from London that the United States and Britain have agreed to make a show of force in the eastern Mediterranean to underline their determination to prevent a full-fledged war.

London sources said the tipoff on the strategy was the announcement that a battalion of U. S. Marines will be shipped to the Mediterranean next week to "train" with the U. S. 6th Fleet.

The U. S. Navy, however, insisted in a statement here today that the assignment had nothing to do with the Middle Eastern crisis. It said the move was strictly part of a routine "periodic deployment" of forces for training and participation in North Atlantic Treaty Organization exercises.

Despite the official disclaimers, diplomats here generally interpreted the Marine deployment as a frank warning to both sides of the Middle East dispute to keep the peace. They said the move certainly was approved by the State Department.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY
I am the Lord your God which have separated you from other people. — Lev. 20:24.

Theologians have argued about the doctrine of election. One thing is certain we can all be candidates, though election remains with God. He has said He will in no wise cast out those who seek Him. Election then would seem certain to sincere candidates.

SEATO Extends Protection To Pakistan

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — The Southeast Asia Treaty Organization today gave Pakistan formal protection against Afghanistan's Soviet-backed claims to part of Pakistan's northern border territory.

The decision was announced in the official conference communiqué which wound up three days of meetings of SEATO's Council of Ministers.

The communiqué was issued shortly after U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles told the conference that a strong strategic striking force was the basis of America's new Asian defense plans.

Pakistan was given formal protection by extending the SEATO defense line to the so-called Durand Line border between it and Afghanistan.

The Durand Line was drawn up by India in 1893 when Afghanistan tried to push its borders into sparsely settled Indian territory. The line at that time defined the authority of the emir of Afghanistan on his eastern and southern borders.

WAF Recruiter Here Saturday

Dulles said the United States plan also called for three of the Asian members of the defense organization to build up a "strong and indigenous" force able to resist aggression, conference sources said.

The sources said Dulles outlined the simple two-point defense plan in this morning's secret session during which he told the SEATO ministers the strength of Allied forces in the treaty area was greater than U. S. strength in the Pacific during World War II.

This was believed to be a reference to great Allied fire power through modern developments including atomic weapons.

Robert Fulton's steamboat made its first voyage Aug. 11, 1807, on the Hudson River.

A WAF recruiter will be in Harrisburg Saturday morning and young women interested in joining the Air Force are invited to talk with her. It has been announced by M. Sgt. Peter Demediuk of the local recruiting office.

A 1-C Betty Forehand, WAF recruiting representative of the St. Louis Air Force Recruiting Detachment, will appear with Sgt. Demediuk on the "Air Force Blue Band Wagon," regular feature over radio station WEBQ, at 10:30 a. m. Saturday. Later WAF Forehand will be at the Harrisburg recruiting station and all young women interested in the Air Force are invited to visit the recruiting station for an interview.

Icy Rain, Floods, Snow in Final Winter Effort

By United Press

A last minute winter outbreak hit the nation's eastern third with icy rain, snow, and floods today. The fast-dying season sent what may be its last big storm roaring out of the West to the Appalachians. It started with tornadoes in the Midlands and followed up with howling snowstorms, flooding rains and a cold wave.

In the East, flood waters were falling in northern New York state, but swollen rivers were still rising in northwestern Pennsylvania. The Allegheny River went over flood stage at Warren, Pa., with pounding rain still coming down. The Warren General Hospital, housing 99 patients, was sandbagged and a spokesman said "We'll have to bring some nurses in by boat because the south side where they live has about a foot of water."

Earlier, the rains touched off flash floods in New York state in a matter of hours. Homes were evacuated, schools were closed, and a state of emergency was declared at Lackawanna, where damage was estimated at $50,000.

Elsewhere, the wintry outbreak dumped seven inches of snow on Wausau, Wis., and Pelliston, Mich., coated Chicago with a treacherous icy glaze, and dropped temperatures more than 40 degrees.

Chicago was caught unawares by an innocent-seeming drizzle which turned to ice when the temperature fell. A snowstorm followed and rush hour traffic was tied into knots, with traffic accidents occurring at a rate of 100 an hour.

Farther south, the temperature dropped more than 30 degrees in Texas, 40 degrees in the Ohio Valley, and from 80 to 38 at Memphis, Tenn. At St. Louis, Mo., where 80-degree heat records had been set for two straight days, the mercury didn't get over 42 Wednesday.

Preacher Labeled Fiance by Miss Lucy Refuses Comment

TYLER, Tex. (AP) — A Negro preacher, described by controversial coed Autherine Lucy as her fiance, said he did not "want to make a public show of this" and declined further comment.

The Rev. Hugh Lawrence Foster, 27, was reached at his residence Wednesday night after Miss Lucy said in New York she planned to marry him.

Foster said, "I have no comment to make," when asked if he knew Miss Lucy. He made the same reply to almost every other question asked of him.

It was when asked if he might have something to say later that he answered, "I don't want to make a public show of this."

Asked about his work, he said, "I am a Baptist minister," but he pushed aside all further questions about his preaching by again stating, "I have no comment to make."

Foster is a student at Butler College, an all-Negro institution in Tyler, and also preaches at a Tyler church.

Six New Model Demon Jets
P-35 Navy Tests
ST. LOUIS (U.P.)—Six Demon F3H-2N, successors to the ill-fated non-flying jets of McDonnell Aircraft Corp., were declared "fleet-ready" Wednesday the aircraft firm announced.
The planes were flown to Cecil Field, near Jacksonville, Fla., after seven weeks of Navy tests at Patuxent, Md.
The original Demons brought about a congressional investigation because their engines lacked sufficient power to fly them. Some 60 of them were grounded permanently and a subcommittee which made the investigation predicted that the never models also would be of little use because of the speed with which such planes become obsolescent.
However, McDonnell called the new model "one of the outstanding carrier-based fighters now in service," and said it is the Navy's "signature" sea or fighter."

Horse Trainer Charged with Bank Robbery
NEW YORK (U.P.)—FBI agents arrested a 33-year-old horse trainer who was hiding out as a hospital patient Wednesday and charged him with the daring $188,000 robbery of a suburban Port Chester, N. Y., bank last Friday.
Agents said they recovered almost $100,000 of the loot—still in its bank wrappers—in the car the suspect stored in a garage when he went to the hospital.
Police and FBI agents still were looking for a second man who aided in the stickup of a drive-in bank after the abduction of a woman teller.
The arrested man was identified as Arthur L. Paisner, who said he owns and handles two race horses. He was arrested in his bed in a Bronx hospital where he had been recovering from minor surgery for removal of a cyst.
Authorities said Paisner arranged the operation last month, well in advance of the robbery, apparently thinking his stay in the hospital would throw off investigators. He entered the hospital Sunday.
Two holdup men abducted Mrs. Mary F. Kostolos last Thursday night as she was parking her car at her home, near the bank, and drove her around for several hours questioning her about bank operations.
They took her to the bank before daybreak, forced her to open the door and waited for the bank officer who knew the vault combination to report for work.

Cancer-Doomed Mother Wins Race To Board Ship

HOBOKEN, N. J. (AP) — A cancer-doomed young mother won a 90-mile race against time today and arrived here in time to catch a liner which will take her to her native Holland, where she wants to die.

Accompanied by a police escort with wailing sirens, an ambulance which had brought Mrs. Atonia Manders, 27, from her Sudbury, Ont., Canada home, reached the pier shortly before the Holland American liner Maasdam sailed at noon.

Mrs. Manders, who has cancer of the hip, lungs and muscles and has been given only six months to live, was carried aboard and taken to the ship's hospital.

Although she was partially under a sedative, she smiled weakly at reporters from her bed.

Her husband, Cornelius, 28, made the ambulance race with her from Canada.

Manders was carrying their 18-month-old son, Willie, who was brought here by train by a friend.

Three Wrestling Matches at Davenport Gym March 24, Sponsored by Lions Club

Wrestling fans in this area will have a chance to attend one of the strongest mat cards ever presented in southern Illinois Saturday, March 24. The matches, to be staged at Davenport gymnasium, are being sponsored in Harrisburg by the Lions club.

There will be three matches and anyone of the three could be called the main event.

The feature will pit Bill Melby of Salt Lake City, Utah, one of the fastest "college" style wrestlers in America, against the roughest product to come out of Europe for some time, the German roughie, Hans Schmidt.

Melby is of Mormon descent and had quite an amateur success in the Salt Lake City area before turning pro. Since then he has hung up quite a string of victories and is considered by many the logical contender for the heavy-weight title, a bout which he claims has been sidestepped by the champion.

Opposing Melby is Hans Schmidt, without a doubt one of the roughest and toughest wrestlers ever to enter a ring. He has been barred from wrestling in Illinois several times for such unsocial conduct as tossing the referee out of the ring and similar behavior, it is reported.

Since Melby has been wrestling on the west coast for some time, these will be two top notch wrestlers who have not met before and there probably will be quite a few fireworks while they try to analyze each other's tactics.

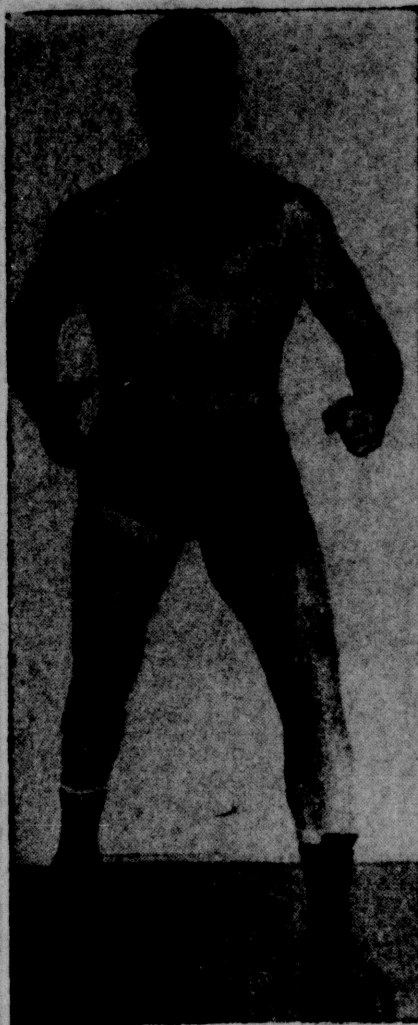

In the co-feature the woman who calls herself the "World's Strongest Woman Wrestler" — Ada Ashe — will meet the beautiful Rose Roman, Des Moines, contribution to the female mat world.

The evening program will get underway with an all-star Australian Tag Team bout. Rudy Kay and Zack Malkov, a well known tag team both from Chicago, will take on the team of Seymour Koenig, New York City, and Louis Martinez, from Mexico.

Tickets are now on sale. Reserved seats may be purchased at The Webster Pharmacy and general admission tickets are available at Woolworth's.

2,618,777 Auto Licenses Issued by End of February

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — Illinois passenger car registration for 1956 totaled 2,618,777 at the end of February, Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter said today.

Total 1955 registration was 2,858,869.

Carpenter said his office issued more 1956 license plates in the 75 working days since Dec. 1 than were issued for the entire year of 1955 when total registration was 2,580,678.

He credited an early deadline for having plates this year with the high early registration total.

Warriors Win Eastern Title

By United Press

The Philadelphia Warriors took over today as the new Eastern Division champions of the National Basketball Assn., while last year's champs, the Syracuse Nationals, continued in a hot battle for a playoff berth.

The Warriors officially wrapped up their title Wednesday night by trouncing the New York Knickerbockers, 108-87, in the first game of a doubleheader at Boston. Second-place Boston scored a 111-99 victory over Syracuse in the nightcap but now trails the Warriors by 5 1-2 games with just five to go.

The Fort Wayne Pistons could have clinched the Western title with a Wednesday night win, but were beaten by Minneapolis, 98-95. In the same division, St. Louis is downed Rochester, 96-89, to strengthen its hold on third place.

As a result of the two defeats, Syracuse continued to lead New York by a half-game in the fight for third place in the East, Syracuse with five games left and New York with six.

The victory came close to clinching a playoff berth for St. Louis. The Hawks lead the Royals by four games in the lost column, the Hawks with six to play and the Royals with just two.

Pettit's 28 points also increased his lead in the scoring race to 38 over Paul Arizin of Philadelphia, who scored 23 Wednesday night.

The Secret of Hidden Treasures

The CLUE—COLUMBIA AGRICULTURAL LIMESTONE—it has hidden treasures which are not recognized by all.

COLUMBIA AGRICULTURAL LIMESTONE not only sweetens soil, adds calcium, but makes it possible to raise legumes which add tilth to the soil.

According to the results from the University of Illinois Brownstown Experimental Field, this is clearly demonstrated.

On the area of the field, which has been limed since 1940, and where clovers were plowed under, the corn yields, with LIMESTONE, potash, phosphate and nitrogen, was 97 bushels per acre.

On a new area, without legumes, but with the same amount of LIMESTONE, potash, phosphate and nitrogen, the field was 42 bushels per acre.

LIMESTONE and LEGUMES are the farmer's greatest guarantee against crop failures, especially in bad years. Don't forget to satisfy your LIMESTONE REQUIREMENTS FIRST! Let:

CHICAGO (AP)—Eight team and three individual records were set in the Big Ten basketball chase which closed Monday with Iowa retaining the league title for the second straight year, official statistics showed today.

Illinois' conference runner-ups set three team records, the best free throw average for the season, .744, most points per game, 91.2, and most field goals a game, 33.6.

Ohio State set a record for most free throws a game, 26.9, and shared with Wisconsin the record for most points by two teams in one game, 198 for the 100-98 Buckeye victory Jan. 14. The same teams set a record for most field goals in a game with 78 in the same contest, Wisconsin's 98 points also was the highest losing score on record in the conference.

Indians Lose Scalps to Carmi Bull Dogs, 49-48

Shawneetown Bows Out of Sectional With First Loss of Year

West Frankfort And Metropolis To Compete Tonight

Twenty-nine scalps, and then the Indians bit the dust, nipped by a Bull Dog.

The most enviable record of 29 straight victories without a loss during the 1955-56 basketball season came to an end for the Shawneetown Indians last night when they bowed out, 49 to 48, to the Carmi Bull Dogs in the opening game of the Harrisburg sectional tournament.

A standing-room-only crowd of nearly 3,500 saw the first defeat of the year for the Indians, who had won the McLeansboro regional before coming to Harrisburg. Tonight at 8:00 it will be West Frankfort and Metropolis.

Good Control Game

The Indians were beaten by a team which played a good control game, jumped with the Shawnee crew all night, and had one more point when the game ended. Probably the best answer as to why Carmi won was that the Bull Dogs made fewer mistakes than the Indians.

The Bull Dogs were led by guard Ronnie Winter, who must have come from Kool City, because he never was rattled as he held and dribbled the ball for as long as a minute sometimes before the Carmi attack went into gear. And it was his shots from the back of the free throw circle that kept Carmi in the running. Also a big help in the victory was the rebounding of Larry Bell.

Shawneetown took a lead midway in the second quarter and held a margin, once by seven points early in the fourth period, until there were only two minutes and 25 seconds left in the game. The Bull Dogs led 11-9 at the quarter, but the Indians were ahead 24-19 at the half and 36-33 at the end of the third period.

Winter Ties Count

But Carmi continued its cautious type of play, setting up screens and taking plenty of time in an attempt to work in the ball or draw a foul. After the score was tied six times early in the game, Shawneetown jumped out into its lead.

After about a minute of the fourth quarter was gone Shawneetown led, 40-33, and with three and a half minutes left still held a four-point margin, 42-38. But a long shot by Winters tied the count at 44-44 with two minutes and 25 seconds left and when Hobart Ellis fouled him with a minute and 15 seconds remaining, Winter made both shots to give the Bull Dogs a 46-44 lead.

With 40 seconds left Bob Stewart fouled Roy Emery and he made one of them to increase the lead to 47-44 before Al Gunzel of Shawneetown put one through the net to close the gap to 47-46.

Good Shooting Percentages

Forced to press, Gunzel fouled Shelby Hankins of Carmi with 14 seconds in the game and Hankins sank both to make the count 49-46. In the closing seconds Jack Nolen hit for a basket to put Shawneetown behind one point 49-48, and when Carmi threw in, Nolen intercepted but had no time for a shot before the game ended.

Both teams shot well, Shawneetown hitting for a .444 percentage with 20 out of 45 and Carmi for .417 with 15 out of 36. With the Indians making five more field goals, Carmi won at the free throw line, where the Bull Dogs made 19 out of 25 while Shawnee made eight out of 15.

High scorer of the game was Winter, who made 19 points. Nolen of Shawneetown was next with 15.

Sectional Tourney Notes

The enormous crowd was certainly handled well, and few, if any, got turned away.

The gym was filled up at 7:30 a half hour before game time, and HTHS Principal Eltis Henson stopped the sale of tickets about 7:35. However, when crowds did not jam the lobby, the sale of tickets was resumed for a number of people who came in and took advantage of standing room.

The seats on the stage were needed. The sitters and standers on the stage added up to about 350 persons.

The end of the Shawneetown-Carmi game was like the end of the state finals. Plenty of tears were shed on the Shawneetown side of the gym, which is understandable. Their wonderful team had been eliminated. And joy reigned supreme on the Carmi side.

A guest at last night's session was Floyd Smith of Fairfield, president of the Illinois High School association, which controls the tournaments. Slated to be present tonight is Al Willis, executive secretary of the association.

It was the first loss that Coach Darwin Valter has ever suffered, and he took it like a man. This is Valter's first season in coaching. And here's some thing else: Valter told this writer that last night's game was the first sectional game he had ever seen.

Fans Regret Exit of Shawneetown From Tourney Play; Pinckneyville, Edwardsville Win Sectional Tilts

By United Press

Basketball fans who never saw the sleepy Ohio River town today mourned the exit of Shawneetown from the Illinois high school basketball tournament after the Indians lost to Carmi 49-48.

Fourteen teams were eliminated in sectional semifinal games Wednesday night.

The Carmi Bulldogs handed Shawneetown its second loss in 63 games over the past two years. And until the fourth quarter it looked like the Indians would stay in the running for the state high school cage crown.

But with three minutes to go, Carmi took the lead 45-44 and held the edge to the final gun. Ron Winter got 20 points for Carmi and Jack Nolen tried to keep the Indians ahead with 15 points.

Shawneetown won 32 straight in the 1954-55 season, reaching the quarter-final round of the "Sweet Sixteen" at Champaign before bowing. This year the Indians had won 29 without a loss. Carmi, ready for Friday night's sectional finals, has won 23 and lost 6.

Little York Eliminated

Another "Cinderella" club, Little York, was massacred at East Moline by tourney favorite Galesburg 102-64. Galesburg was too fast and too big for the district tournament winners. Russ Lind led Galesburg scorers with 26 points.

Edwardsville turned on a blistering scoring attack to net 30 points in the final quarter and oust Litchfield 74-66. Manny Jackson again was the nemesis of the Purple Panthers, getting 30 points for the Tigers. Edwardsville center Governor Vaughn added 23.

Litchfield seemed headed for an upset for a time, leading at the end of each of the first three periods. Pinckneyville, rated second-best four radio stations covered last night's game. The accommodations were good. Roy O'Neal, Carmi Times sports editor, did not see his team win, however. He was home ill with the flu.

There wasn't room for the HTHS band at last night and organ music was used instead. It was Miss Paula Reynolds, HTHS student, who was hidden from view, at the organ. She played several numbers before the contest and the National Anthem before the game.

in the state behind defending champion Rockford West, never faltered in sweeping to a 59-43 win over Belleville on the Pinckneyville floor.

St. Edward Trips De Kalb

Elgin St. Edward set a torrid scoring pace to trip the De Kalb Barbs 81-73 at Arlington Heights. St. Edward increased its stature as tourney favorite in winning its 22nd game out of 28. The Barbs finished with a 16-12 record.

The Freeport Pretzels, who would like to go back to the "Sweet Sixteen" where they became champions in 1951, edged the Fulton Steamers 69-68 at Rockford. Vern McDonald whipped in 26 points for the winners. For Fulton, it was the eighth loss in 34 games. Freeport has won 14, lost 11.

Effingham St. Anthony was one small school entry that made the big school competition a knuckle under, beating Mattoon 59-44. St. Anthony won its 30th game out of 31 as it proved too fast and deceptive for the Big 12 entry. Bob Ludwig swished 19 points for St. Anthony.

The only club to conquer St. Anthony, Decatur St. Teresa, was the victim of an upset, losing to Clinton 71-68. Forward Jerry Riva sparked Clinton to a last half comeback with a total of 24 points. The Maroons were down 37-33 at the half but the Bulldogs were outscored in each of the final two periods.

Rantoul Wins Another

At Champaign, Westville, holding a 27-2 record as the game started, bowed to Rantoul 67-58. Again it was a second-half rally that turned the tide for the winners who now have a 21-7 record.

At Hinsdale, Oak Park of the Suburban League won as expected from Aurora West 64-60. Oak Park was ahead almost all the way in getting its 15th win against seven defeats.

Mason City's Huskies gained their 24th pelt with only three losses in whipping Jacksonville 71-56 on the Jacksonville floor. The Huskies, a faster team, pulled away early in the second half, with Charles Beard a power under the boards, edging Jacksonville's big Bill Jordan for rebounding honors. The Huskies also got 23 free points while Jacksonville got only 12.

Kewanee led throughout in whipping Mid-County 64-60 at La Salle-Peru. For the Boilermakers, it was only their ninth win in 28 games.

Special Farm Loans Available

Ezra Taft Benson, Secretary of Agriculture, has made special farm operating loans available to eligible farmers in Illinois, County Supervisor E. Ronald Coon announced today.

The action was taken under Public Law 727, 83rd Congress, as amended. The law provides for making special loans for agricultural purposes where there is a need for agricultural credit that cannot be met for a temporary period from commercial banks, cooperative lending agencies, the Farmers Home Administration under its regular programs or through other types of emergency loans.

Applications for the loans can be made at the local county offices of the Farmers Home Administration in Harrisburg, through June 30, 1956.

The loan funds may be used to meet normal operating expenses, but not for repayment of existing debts. The applicant must be primarily engaged in farming and have suitable experience and reasonable prospects for success in the farming operations he plans to carry on with the loan.

The interest rate is 3 per cent. Repayments are scheduled according to the borrower's ability to repay. However, loans for crop production are usually scheduled for repayment when the income from the crops is normally received. The operating loans are secured by liens on crops and, when necessary, by lien on other property.

Filipino Women Urged to Offer Lips To Local Males First

MANILA, P. I. (AP) — City Councilman Apolonio Gener said today he would introduce a resolution to make Filipino women offer their lips to local males before foreigners.

He was outraged that a Filipino girl asked American actor Marlon Brando at a press conference here to "kiss me" and Brando refused.

"Gentlemen, look," Gener told newsmen. "Our foreign policy is run by Americans, and our economy is controlled by Chinese. Let us not allow foreigners to control our love life."

Gener said that if the woman who asked Brando for a kiss, had come to him first, "I would have given her full satisfaction."

The Filipino race, Gener said, is "more virile, more romantic than any other race in the world."

Stampede in Senate to Support Honest Elections; Corruption in U. S. System

By LYLE C. WILSON

United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (AP) — There is a stampede on in the Senate to line up on the side of righteousness and against corruption.

At least 62 senators have signed up to support a new honest elections bill which doubtless will improve the system some, but probably not much. The United States elections system was unintentionally rigged to favor corruption — if by corruption is meant the spending of money for which no proper accounting ever is made. The new honest elections bill grew out of the offer of cash contributions to the campaigns of senators who favored the natural gas bill, which recently passed Congress and died of presidential veto. There is mortal fear on Capitol Hill that the voters may have been aroused by the gas bill episode. Angry voters are likely to vote the ins out.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson recently said something like this: You will have to spur some to get ahead of me in being for good works and against corruption. And that about adds it up. Everybody is against corruption. The senators stampede to be recorded publicly against it, hoping the voters back home will take note.

The United States election system is rigged for over-spending and lax accounting by reason of the overlapping of campaign and spending efforts. In a given county for example, there usually are judges, county commissioners and a sheriff to be chosen. The county is part of a congressional district which must help select a congressman. As part of the state, the county also may be voting for a United States senator. The state legislature also may be on the ballot. And if it is presidential year, the county voter is helping to choose a president.

The major candidates have their own campaign managers, each operating and spending somewhat independently of all others. The national congressional and senatorial campaign committees have funds for independent spending. At the top of the heap are the national committees with large sums to spread around. State committees, likewise, put some money out. And there are numerous individuals who put discreet thousands here and there.

No single individual or committee in either party is responsible for all money raising or spending. That is the fact upon which previous honest elections bills have floundered. There is no doubt that the new bill will pass. But there is much doubt that it will do the job.

The British have a simpler elections system. There are no side-show diversions to the election of members of Parliament. The British Representatives of the People Acts passed in 1948 and 1949 are effective. A candidate must not treat a voter to a campaign beer or cigar. A candidate would be disqualified if he had advanced a loan to a voter within six months prior to an election.

Your neighbor may take his family to the polls in his car, but he may not offer you a lift. A candidate may register for taking persons to the polling place, one car for each 2,500 city voters or one for each 1,500 rural voters. If a registered car breaks down on polling day, it may not be replaced.

Each candidate has a responsible agent who may be punished if the election rules are broken. The agent usually is a skilled accountant and a graduate of an elections campaign school. The agent is personally responsible for assuring that the candidate spends no more than $280 of his own funds.

The agent may spend roughly between $1,600 and $1,800, depending on the constituency—and that is all.

The British enforce all of this, too.

New Communist 'Soft Line' to Get First Test

By CHARLES M. McCANN

United Press Staff Correspondent
The new "soft" policy of Communist infiltration in Western European countries is about to undergo its first test.

This new policy was laid down at the recent 20th Communist Party congress in Moscow.

It calls upon Communist parties in foreign countries to work with the Socialists and other left wing groups in parliament instead of resorting to violence.

The first test of the policy is coming up in Italy, which has the biggest Communist Party — about 2½ million members — in Western Europe.

Italian Communist Party leader Palmiro Togliatti returned to Rome Tuesday from the Moscow congress to find himself faced by a revolt of a strong Red faction which believes in being tough. The rebels—somewhat optimistically, perhaps—claim to represent about one million party members.

New Line By Khrushchev
Possibly they didn't read the newspaper accounts of the Moscow proceedings, in any event, they issued a manifesto attacking Togliatti and other party leaders and demanded a return to the "revolutionary line."

It will be interesting to see whether Togliatti can restore party discipline. If he can't, he will be in trouble—and so will Moscow.

Nikita S. Khrushchev, the Russian Communist Party leader, laid down the new line. He said the world can be conquered for communism by peaceful means.

Khrushchev called upon Communist parties to work for a "united front" with other leftists to win "a stable parliamentary majority."

Togliatti himself endorsed the new line enthusiastically in an interview with the United Press in Moscow.

Togliatti has been under attack before by the hot heads in his own party. Undoubtedly Moscow will be watching to see how he does this time.

The first day of autumn in 1956 will be Sept. 22.

This time of year citrus fruits are at their best! Oranges and grapefruit are rich in Vitamin C, so necessary to good health and vitality. Here are a few hints on caring for citrus fruits. ... Do not buy more than your family can use during a week. ... Store citrus fruits in a cool, dark place. ... Handle fruit carefully. Avoid bruises caused by dropping or crushing. ... Chill oranges for juice before squeezing. Adding cubes to chill, dilutes the juice.

Stepping Into Spring--The Light Foot

The shoes that walk proudly in the Easter parade this year will be light, delicate and in colors both clear and pastel. Walking shoe (upper left) offers lots of spring fashion. It's a delicately grained calf leather in brilliant white, a new kind of spectator with stacked leather heel, moc-toe front. The dark tones are in a French bread shade of suede. Afternoon-evening sandal (upper center) is in pale pink suede. This T-strap shoe is poised on a slim mid-heel. Walking shoe (upper right) is in natural punch pig leather, has tapered toe and low side cut. Flax colored shoes in shining calf (lower left) have mid-heels with illusion of height. Mother and daughter (lower center) both wear the newest in strapped pumps. Daughter has shiny black patent leather with new type of adjustable strap that can be attached from the flexible leather sole around the instep or from the back of the shoe to form an anklet. Mother wears the city spectator in white calf trimmed with black patent. Dressy sandal (lower right) is in soft suede in a minty green. Many sandals are shown for walking this year, in the mid-heel height.

Tips on Traffic Safety

By CHARLES F. CARPENTIER
Secretary of State

It is apparently impossible to impress some motorists with the dangers they face when they cross a railroad track when either a flagman or a mechanical or electric signal instructs them to come to a stop.

The law states that when a driver approaches a clearly visible electrical or mechanical signal device which warns of the approach of a train the driver must stop within 50 feet but not less than 10 from the nearest track. The motorist shall not proceed until it is safe to do so. (Section 83a Uniform Act Regulating Traffic.)

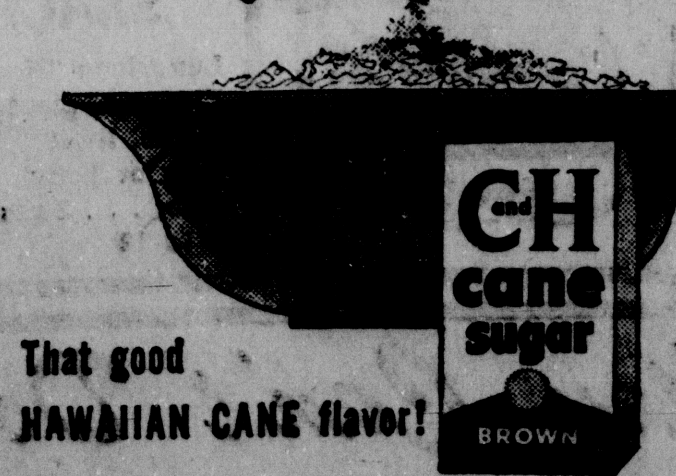

It is also required by law that a motorist shall stop and remain standing at a grade crossing when a crossing gate is lowered or when a flagman gives or continues to give a signal of the approach or passage of a train. (Section 83b Uniform Act Regulating Traffic.)

All motor vehicles carrying passengers for hire and school buses carrying any school children must stop not less than 10 feet from the nearest rail when crossing at grade any railroad track. Before starting up again the driver of any such vehicle must listen and look in both directions for the approach of any train. (Section 84a, Uniform Act Regulating Traffic.)

A copy of the completely new "Rules of the Road" booklet will be sent to you free upon request. Write to CHARLES F. CARPENTIER, Secretary of State, Springfield, Illinois.

The Mexican jumping bean jumps because the paper - thin shell holds the grub of a gray moth. The larva has 16 legs, some of which have small hooks. With these the insect catches a firm hold and, raising its body, delivers a hard blow with its head, causing the bean to move.

Just a Corpse at Twilight

By Robert Martin

XXV

An old, old man sunning himself on a bench in front of the Beech Tree Farmer's Bank told me shrilly, with much waving of thin arms, that Sunny Acres Cemetery was two miles out of town on the old Wellington Road, on my right, just past Clint Murdock's place, can't miss it, Mister. Patient questioning netted me the fact that the Wellington road had its roots in the street beyond the Tweed Funeral Home, going east.

Two miles out, just past a big old Victorian farmhouse with C. Murdock on the roadside mail box, I saw the tombstones glinting in the sun. I turned off the road and drove through an ornate iron archway and along a narrow stoned drive which wound up between the graves. At the top of the hill I stopped. On my left a man was riding a power mower. I got out and walked toward him.

He saw me coming, throttled the mower's motor, and sat waiting.

"Howdy." He pushed a frayed straw hat back from a sunburned face. He was maybe 30 years old.

"Can you tell me where I can find the cemetery caretaker?"

"That's me. What can I do for you?" He leaned down and held out a hand. "I'm Ted Johnson."

"Bennett," I said, shaking his hand. "I'm from the Industrial Welfare Commission and I have instruction to exhume a body. Can you take care of it for me?"

"Reckon so," he said shortly. "What body you want dug up?"

"Frank Osborn's. He was buried last December."

"Remember it well. Ground was frozen hard." He turned and waved an arm. "Frank's buried over the hill. The boys just finished digging his wife's grave, right beside Frank's. Alice bought a double lot when he died. Her funeral is this afternoon."

"I know," I said. "When can you start digging?"

"Right after the funeral. It wouldn't look right to be digging up Frank before his wife is buried."

"No, it wouldn't," I agreed, thinking with admiration that Ted Johnson was a man who knew his job.

"You got authorization and identification?"

I showed him my wallet containing the embossed card with the state seal and Austin O'Connor's heavy signature. "Mrs. Osborn gave us permission before she died," I told him. "You can call the commission and check, if you like."

"I guess that won't be necessary. I ought to check with Jake Oakes—he's the president of the Cemetery Association—but Jake's in St. Louis at a cemetery convention."

"Do cemetery associations have conventions?" I asked.

"Sure they do. Big deal, I guess. I'm a trustee of the Beech Tree association and Jake says maybe next year he'll take me along to the convention—it'll be in Pittsburgh then."

"Very interesting," I said, and handed him a $5 bill. "But this is for your cooperation. Get your men to digging right after the funeral, as soon as the crowd leaves. You keep track of their time and the state will pay."

He tucked the bill into a shirt pocket. "Okay, thanks. It's for an autopsy, I suppose, on account of Frank's lung trouble? He was on state compensation for a long time before he died."

"Yes," I said, amazed at the personal information which circulated in a small community.

"Going to do it at Wilbur Tweed's?"

"No. We'll do it right here. It won't take long. We'll need some supports for the casket, though, and maybe some planks to lay the body on. And tell your men to stand by until we're finished. We'll pay for the waiting time. I'll want them to fill in the grave again."

"Okay. I'll get some saw horses and some planks." He laughed softly. "I heard old Wilbur refused to let you use his embalming room. He was sweet on Alice, but she wouldn't marry him until Frank had been dead a year. What time do you think you'll be finished?"

"By sundown, I hope."

He grinned. "Five bucks can buy a lot of cooperation. See you later." The mower's motor swelled, shattering the sunlit morning, and he swung away from me on his high seat, waving an arm. Cut grass sprayed in green clouds from the blades as he guided the mower between the graves. I returned to my car, followed the stoned drive up and down and around between the graves and left the cemetery by the gate I had entered. It was 10 minutes until 12 o'clock noon.

In Beech Tree I turned off the square and took the road leading to Alice Osborn's house. I had no special reason for doing so, except that I had two hours to kill before the funeral. As I approached the place I saw that there were two cars in the drive, the sheriff's black sedan and a glittering pale blue car with Indiana plates. Mr. and Mrs. Louis Woodruff, I thought, accompanied by Sheriff Abner Cornwalls, inspecting the loot. I drove past, turned around in a lane, and drove slowly back to the village. It seemed to me that they could have waited until after the funeral.

Thinking It Over—For Lent

By Robert Dieffenbacher, D. D.
Written for NEA Service

God is bigger than any of us. In fact He is more powerful, more understanding, more loving than any single person we have ever known. It would take more than the combined intelligence of a world, more than the love of all humanity, and more than the power of a carload of hydrogen bombs to measure the Supreme Being.

The more we try to think about the bigness of God, the more insignificant we become in our own minds.

Humility grows as we think about ourselves compared with God. So many people think so much about themselves and about how important they are that they look past anyone bigger than they are. A lot of people shy away from having their little egos deflated.

Take Hitler for instance, he thought he was a superman but when he was brought down to size he was pretty small compared even to humble men. He now appears less than nothing in comparison to the God he tried to supersede.

Look at any outstanding person, including yourself. There is still room for improvement.

If you must substitute general purpose flour for cake flour, here is a guide: sift three times and use 1 1/2 tablespoons to each cup measure.
